What is LSAMP?

Louis Stokes Alliance for Minority Participation (LSAMP) is a National Science Foundation funded program that focuses on building a community of diverse scholars in the Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM) majors at OSU. LSAMP supports students who self identify as one or more of the following:

- Black/African American
- Latina/o
- Native American/Alaskan Native
- Pacific Islander/Native Hawaiian

STEM Leaders

Students will also have the opportunity to apply to the OSU STEM Leaders program. STEM Leaders gain access to several proven methods of success in college, including paid undergraduate research with a professor, workshops focused on improving the likelihood of success, a U-SUCCEED course teaching skills essential for first year students, and interactions with a community of students with like interests.
